FOR THE CURE OF FITS.

The patent Antispasmodic Elixir.

Convulsion Hysteric, or Epileptic Falling Fits,

Are effectually cured by this excellent medicine. Its virtues are absolutely specific and unparalleled. It has failed in no instance within the knowledge of the proprietor (where taken agreeable to the directions, and with perseverance) the most dreadful Fits ever known. One case of cure only is subjoined out of a considerable number, as proof of its efficacy attested before the Lord Mayor of London.

AFFIDAVIT.

"I, James Pocock, of No 40, North-street, in the Parish of St. Luke's Middlesex, do make oath—That I was grievously afflicted with fits for upwards of 15 years! and that to so violent a degree, as to require 12 men to hold me in them, to prevent me dashing myself to pieces. They would generally last me 5, 6, and often 7 hours; in consequence of which my constitution became quite emaciated. I made application to many eminent gentlemen of the faculty, who afforded me no relief whatever; till I applied to Dr. James Church of the City Road, who prescribed his Antispasmodic Elixir for me, which I took, and which alone cured me of these most dreadful fits, and restored me to perfect health. This deponent further maketh oath, and saith, that it is now two years since he was first cured of his fits, and he has no return whatever of them since.

JAMES POCOCK.

Sworn before me at the Mansion-house, this 29th day of August, 1796.

William Curtis, Mayor.

Prepared (only) by the Inventor and sole Proprietor, Dr. James Church, at his Dispensary, 137. Front street, near the Fly-Market, New-York; and sold by messrs. H. & P. Rice, 16, South Second Street, Philadelphia.

To the nervous, weak, debilitated, sedentary and consumptive,
IS RECOMMENDED, THE CELEBRATED
BOTANICAL TEA,
Instead of Foreign Tea.

THIS Tea is universally approved of in preference to foreign tea, as the most pleasant, wholesome, enlivening, invigorating, and powerful restorative ever adopted, for persons of all ages, but particularly those of the above description; as it will infallibly strengthen, and eventually repair a bad constitution.

It is taken for breakfast instead of foreign tea, and as our first aliment in the morning is designed to recruit the waste of the body from the night's insensible perspiration; it is well known, and an important fact which ought to be borne on the mind of every one, that foreign teas are inadequate to such purposes, as all will allow; it unnerves and wears the substance of the solids. This substitute is professionally approved as a salutary and nourishing diet, or as a morning and afternoon beverage.

THE BOTANICAL TEA

is singularly efficacious in all cases of inward weakness, trembling or shaking of the hands, loss of appetite, (particularly in the morning) depression of spirits, windy complaints. It speedily relieves the head and stomach in gouty or rheumatic cases; and in cases of weak digestion, but particularly after making too free with the constitution, by an immoderate use of wine, spiritous liquors, or any intemperance; it is happily suited to hot climates, and is adopted and approved of by some of the first families in the United States and in the West Indies, for its nourishing and invigorating properties; and in bilious cases where the appetite has failed, it is a sovereign remedy.

As proofs of the evil tendency from the use of foreign teas, is subjoined the opinions of some of the first physicians in Europe.

ON FOREIGN TEA.

"The cause of the palsy is drinking too much tea; many imagine tea has no ill effect upon the nerves, this however is a mistake: it effects the nerves, which is evident from its causing the hands to shake, preventing sleep, occasioning giddiness, dimness of sight, sickness, &c.

Dr. BUCHAN.

"Strong infusions of India Tea, not only unnerves but destroys the bodily functions."

Dr. H. SMITH.

And in another publication, Dr. Hugh Smith says, "Tea is hurtful both to the stomach and nerves; it causes phrensies, delirium, appoplexies, and other disorders of the brain, which are produced by the nerves being thus disarranged and debilitated, the digestive faculty of the stomach is much weakened, and the body failing of the recruiting juices, must tend to emaciation and the whole frame thus rendered one system of distress and infirmity"

The justly celebrated Dr. Tillot says, "This fashionable beverage, India Tea, is extremely pernicious, it destroys the strength of the stomach, the vicera, the blood, the nerves, and eventually the whole body."

Dr. Moliere says, "In bilious complaints, tea is extremely hurtful."

Dr. Fothergill. "Tea is very offensive to the lungs, and impedes respiration; it is therefore highly improper for persons who have a difficulty of breathing, or any complaint of the lungs or nerves."

Dr. Saunders says, (see his Medical Mem.) "Indian tea renders men impotent and women barren; hence we may account for the persons in the higher circles having few children, and those in general very sickly and unhealthy."

For more accounts of this tea, see the second edition of Dr. Church's pamphlet.

This botanical tea is calculated to produce the contrary effects, is the result of long and indefatigable study and experience, and by perseveringly adopting its use, will be found to answer the effects herein mentioned.

It is cheaper than India tea—one packet at 75 cents, will last one person for breakfast nearly one month—canisters containing eight packets, five dollars.

 The celebrated BOTANICAL TEA is prepared only by Dr. James Church, at his Dispensary, No. 137 Front-Street, near the Fly-Market, New York, and sold wholesale and retail, by Messrs. H. and P. Rice, 16 South Second Street, Philadelphia, and Mr. Jas. Rice, Baltimore.

WATER-OFFICE.

Centre Square, February 5, 1800.

IN compliance with the instructions of the Committee for watering the city, and with my own inclinations, every possible admittance and information has been given to those citizens who have visited the Works during their progress. The Engines are now arrived, and are immediately to be put up, and it is hoped that it will be thought reasonable and just, both to the Public, and to the Contractor for the Engines, that the workmen should not be interrupted. As a very few months will fully gratify the curiosity of the citizens, by shewing them the Engines in full operation, a temporary exclusion of all visitors from the Engine houses cannot appear improper.

To Merchants, Store keepers, and Tradesmen in general, &c.

1st, PRAY Gentlemen, is a perfect standard of discount, or interest, calculated on every dollar (without exception) from 1 to 2000, from one day to sixty-four days inclusive, of any value, whether used as a standard, or as a check upon the enquirers' own calculations?

2d Is it of any importance to know the best methods of computing the exchanges, between this country and the principal maritime trading place in Russia, Sweden, Denmark, Norway, Prussia, Poland, Germany, Holland, Flanders, Spain, Portugal, Italy, in several of the Windward and Leeward West India Islands, and many ports in the East Indies?

THE Moral Dispensary.

THE subscriber begs leave to inform his friends, and the public in general, that he has this day opened, in the city of Philadelphia, a MORAL and LITERARY DISPENSARY, designed for the benefit of all those, of the good people of these United States, whose manners, language, passions, taste or judgment may have become corrupted, distorted, debilitated, or, in any other manner, so disordered as to require the fostering hand of art to produce or restore the proper tones and functions to the several parts of the moral system.

I have, with much labor and industry, collected a very extensive and valuable assortment of medicines, adapted to the different ages, sexes and constitutions of the people of this country, and calculated both to expand and fortify the intellectual and moral faculties; to purge away the foibles and levities of the fancy; to rectify the acrimonious and corrosive humors of passion; and, in the words of Shakespeare, to minister comfort ——" to a mind diseased;

Pluck from the memory a rooted sorrow,
And, with a sweet oblivious antidote,
Cleanse the stuff'd bosom of that perilous stuff
Which weighs upon the heart."

These medicines, in the all-persuasive language of medical advertisement, are so perfectly mild and innocent that they cannot endanger the most delicate lady, or the tenderest infant. They will be furnished, gratis, to all such as shall make application at the DISPENSARY, either in person or by a note directed to the subscriber, stating the nature of the complaint, and the habits of the person for whom they are designed.

In addition to this, I propose, occasionally, to publish in this Gazette, on Tuesdays, an account of such disorders as may appear prevalent in any part of our country, and to accompany these notices with such advice as may tend to assuage the disorders and prevent them from becoming epidemic. This I am the more especially induced to undertake, from a consideration, that almost all the disorders of the mind are, in their nature, highly contagious; and that, when once originated, they uniformly increase in virulence and malignancy, in proposition as they become more generally extensive.

For want of such seasonable counsel, many indispositions, slight, at first, and unalarming, by taking root in youthful minds, "grow with their growth and strengthen with their strength" till they attain to the stature of the most deadly and inevitable maladies.

Sensible that the reputation of a physician is usually measured by his good nature, rather than his learning; and, that his success is ordinarily proportionate to his skill in accompanying his medical advice with a well told story, and gilding his bitter pill with a merry jest; and, convinced likewise, that a large proportion of the complaints of people are more effectually remedied by these means, than by the most liberal application of caustic, mercury or bleeding; I shall aim, in my occasional prescriptions, not only to apply nutritive instruction to the understandings of the young and unlearned; but likewise to administer a chaste and innocent amusement to the fancies of all. With a single eye to the discouragement of vice and folly, and to the encouragement of good manners and pure morality, I shall endeavor so to administer the savory medicine of honest counsel and wholesome censure as to augment the stock of rational enjoyment; "to convert melancholy into mirth, increase good humor, entertain the ignorant, amuse the learned, escape the contempt of the grave, and, if possible, to merit the approbation of persons of ingenuity and taste."

Philadelphia, March 5, 1800.

MR. FENNO,

I observed in your paper of Saturday evening, that notice was taken of Dr. Leib's having signed a recommendation to the Governor, for the pardon of Langford Herring, convicted a few days since of larceny. You are correct in stating, that Dr. Lieb signed the recommendation; but otherwise the piece is very incorrect.

Langford Herring was indicted for committing four larcenies: Upon one bill he was acquitted; upon the others he was found guilty, upon one or the other charge, stated in the indictment. His imprisonment is not to be for four but three years. You will therefore observe the incorrectness of the statement.

But, Sir, I would ask you, why such a contemptible fellow as Dr. Leib signing a recommendation should astonish you? Is not Dr. Leib a Patriot? Is not the Governor a Patriot? Was not Langford Herring some short time since, indicted for sedition? And who more fit, under all circumstances, than the Dr. to sign a certificate for such a person? I confess the certificate was signed previous to sentence being passed; but it was not before the verdict of the jury. The Dr. knew sentence would be passed by the court, and it was from pure principles of patriotism and humanity, he gave the recommendation as early as he did. It would be a heinous crime, in the eyes of all good modern democrats, to know of a patriot being imprisoned, and not attempt his relief. The Dr. then, according to sound logic, is proved not blameable in signing the recommendation. If you are not satisfied, Sir, with the proof I have before given of the Dr's. innocence, I will put the matter beyond a doubt, by informing you further, that a justice of the peace, a co-patriot of the Dr's. in the Northern Liberties, whose name is Wolbert, also signed the recommendation; and both signatures were affixed, previous to the petition being signed by Herring. Now, Sir, if you are not now convinced, that the Dr's. signature was affixed, from motives of humanity and patriotism, for the purpose of obliging Herring (as he did not, or could not know the petition was drawn at Herring's request) or getting a vote at the next election, "you have no more brains than an oyster."

Give the Devil his due.

FUNERAL OBSEQUIES

In commemmoration of his Holiness, the late Pope Pius the Sixth.

This solemn ceremony was celebrated on Saturday se'nnight, at St. Patrick's Chapel in Sutton street, Soho-square, with all the pomp and magnificence of the Roman Catholic worship, that could be expected in a country where it is not the established religion.

DECORATIONS.

The chapel, which is the most elegant and capacious structure of the kind in London, was decorated in a style suited to the solemnity of the occasion.

At all the entrances were placed mutes, habited in mourning robes, with staves in their hands.

The whole interior of the building was hung with black cloth, extending to the ceiling. To these, hanging on the walls, were affixed numerous lights, with plated reflectors behind them, and in the intervals between, at equal distances, were tablets containing two golden keys, crossed, representing the keys of St. Peter, on a blue ground in the middle, on a frame of black, and edged with gold. The capitals of the columns which support the galleries, were also connected with a black drapery in festoons, on which were suspended lights, shields with appropriate scriptural texts, and escutcheons with suitable emblems, such as the keys of St. Peter, the shepherd's crook, denoting the holy pastor, &c. forming a contrast with the sable, which produced a tout ensemble at once awful and splendid. The pulpit, the floor of the altar, and the body of the chapel, were also in sable livery: and in the middle was erected a sarcophagus, or tomb, representing the Mausoleum supposed to contain the remains of the holy pontiff. It consisted of a platform, to which there was an ascent of five or six steps from the ground, and the sides parallel to those of the chapel. On this was laid an oblong tomb, the ends of which were richly ornamented with pontifical escutcheons, such as have been already described, and armorial bearings, and on a tablet on each side were inscribed the nativity, age and death of his holiness. Upon the tomb was laid a velvet cushion, superbly embroidered with gold, supporting a splendid model of the papal or triple crown. Over all these was a black canopy, elevated about twenty feet, and forming an obtuse angle at top, upon which were placed nine very large white plumes of feathers, beginning at the lowest part of the roof, and rising pyramidically. The canopy was supported by four columns, connected at top by festoons of black drapery, and the steps at their bases were brilliantly lighted up with burning waxen flambeaux, supported in massy candelabras, and intermixed with large plumes of white feathers.

ASSEMBLAGE.

The sanctuary, enclosing the altar, was reserved exclusively for the bishops and clergy, who celebrated high mass, the pope's nuncio, and the archbishops and bishops, among whom were the archbishop of Narbonne, the bishop of Lascar, and fifteen others.

The tribune on the right of the altar was appropriated to the accommodation of the foreign ambassadors, and people of distinction, with whom it was filled. The galleries also presented a very splendid shew of beauty and fashion, the whole comprising many of the nobility of both sexes, among whom, the Duchess of Devonshire, was an attentive spectator of the passing scene.

The uniformly elegant assemblage was finely contrasted by the motley group that filled the body of the Chapel. There is not a class in society, of which there was not here a member, of every age sex and description, forming a most variegated and heterogeneous mixture, compacted into one solid mass. Some of the delicate fainted, the short in stature were in danger of suffocation; and it was only when an effort was made for their relief, that there was any symptom of motion; but then it extended itself of course to the whole aggregate, and the pressure was increased. Great numbers finding the situation intolerable, went away—but as a considerable degree of vigilance was exercised at the door, in preventing indiscriminate admission, the crowd gradually diminished.

DIRGE.

A little after 10 o'clock the funeral dirge for the repose of the soul of this venerable pontiff commenced. It was solemn, grand and impressive. The sounds, sometimes plaintive, sometimes sublime, diffused a tender air of melancholy and pious devotion over the audience, and excited in every breast a deeper interest in the sorrows of the poor old man, and a stronger detestation of those who had refused to his remains the accuſtomed ſepultural rites. The orcheſtra was numerous and complete; it conſiſted of above one hundred and fifty voices, including Mr. Dignum, of Drury Lane theatre, and ſeveral other public vocal performers of eminence. It is therefore almoſt unneceſſary to add, that the muſic of the day, which was of the ſame character as the dirge, was admirably executed.

CEREMONY.

After the dirge which was finiſhed at 12 o'clock, doctor Douglas, the titular biſhop of London, entered in proceſſion, decorated with his mitre and epiſcopal robes, and proceeded to celebrate high maſs, which having been gone through with much ſolemnity, accompanied with ſacred muſic, four of the other biſhops retired, and in a few minutes returned in proceſſion, decorated in their ſumptuous robes, and wearing their mitres. In the performance of this ſervice, Dr. Douglas was aſſiſted by Dr. Huſſey, biſhop of Waterford, ſeveral of the French biſhops, and moſt of the Roman Catholic clergy in the metropolis and its vicinity.

FUNERAL ORATION.

This was delivered by Dr O'Leary, in a very elegant, nervous and impreſſive ſtyle. In the courſe of this excellent oration, abounding with glowing imagery, claſſical alluſion, and diſplaying in every ſentence the energy of an enlightened and vigorous mind, the doctor took occaſion to felicitate his flock, in the moſt emphatical terms, on the happineſs enjoyed in this country, on the conſtitution and ſtate of which he pronounced a fine panegyric happily applying to the extent of our dominion and national glory the line of the poet—

"Imperium oceano, famamque terminat aſtris."

From thence he proceeded to draw a juſt and horrible picture of the French philoſophy, the features of which acquired additional hideouſneſs from contraſt with the beauty of that he had been juſt contemplating. By this philoſophy he ſaid, which teaches that death is an eternal ſleep, all future reſponſibility was taken away from human action, the rein laid looſe on the neck of paſſion, and man, by impunity, ſtimulated to crime. Hence the deluge of guilt which covered all France, unſtemmed by conſcience, and uncontrouled by fear of puniſhment; but this philoſophy, with all its parricidal crimes and horrors, was not ſatisfied until it had ſacrificed on its altars an auguſt and aged pontiff, before whoſe ſilvered locks and majeſtic countenance an Alexander or an Attila would have fallen down, and paid him homage. To make the triumph more complete, nothing was omitted that could aggravate the foul offence. To have ſacrificed him on the ſpot would be to afford him the comfort of dying in his ſacred ſanctuary, in the preſence of its guardian, ſaints and and angels. It therefore became neceſſary to tear him away from the holy ſhrine; and with the refined cruelty of the tyrant who ordered the executioner not to diſpatch his victim by a ſingle blow, but in ſuch a manner that he ſhould feel he was dying, this aged pontiff was doomed to protracted torture, in a foreign land of atheiſts and parricides. The preſence of faithful domeſties and friends had been always conſidered a conſolation in the trying hour of affliction; but even this relief was refuſed, for on his arrival at the frontier of France, an order was iſſued, prohibiting any of his ſuite to ſet foot on the territories of the republic; and thus this aged and venerable pontiff was left alone in the hands of his executioners, to expire without a friend to perform the laſt ſad offices of humanity, in an accurſed and polluted land; a land that could not be better deſcribed than in the words of the prophet—

"A land of darkneſs, as darkneſs itſelf; and of the ſhadow of death, without any order, and where the light is as darkneſs."

Concluſion of the ceremony.

The oration being concluded, the four decorated biſhops laſt mentioned proceeded alternately to walk round the Mauſoleum, performing religious rites, with holy water, and burning incenſe, accompanied with ſolemn prayer and ſacred muſic; after which all the epiſcopal dignitaries roſe and ſtood, while the biſhop of London performed ſimilar devotions, terminating the ſolemn and religious ceremony of the day at four o'clock.

All the epiſcopal dignitaries, upon leaving the ſanctuary in the body of the chapel, ſeverally paid obeiſance to the late pope's nuncio, as they retired.

Friendly Sons of St. Patrick.

☞ Such of the Members of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick, as mean to dine at the City Tavern, on Monday the 17th inſtant, are requeſted to write their names on the paper kept at the bar of the Coffee houſe for that purpoſe.

By order of the Preſident,

JOHN BROWN, Secretary.

March 11, 1800.

CONGRESS.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

MONDAY, March 10.

Mr. Bayard moved that the Committee of the whole Houſe, to whom was referred the meſſage of the Preſident relative to Thomas Nath, alias Jonathan Robbins, and a reſolution ſubmitted by himſelf to the Houſe, approbating the conduct of the Preſident, and referred to that Committee; be diſcharged, from the further conſideration thereof.

A long debate aroſe upon this motion, in which Meſſrs. Randolph, Davis, Jones, Nicholas, Livingſton, and Eggleſton ſpoke againſt it—and Meſſrs. Bayard, Bird, Otis, Kittera, Varnum, Rutledge, Edmond, Shepherd, and H. Lee, in favor of it; when the queſtion was taken.

Ayes 62—Neas 31.

Mr. Gallatin preſented a petition of John Armſtrong, which was read and referred to the Secretary of War.

Mr. Fowler preſented a petition of ſundry inhabitants of the Military townſhips, praying the ſale or leaſe of a certain tract of land, eligible for the erection of a mill-ſeat. Referred to the committee on public lands.

Mr. Hill preſented a petition of John Bridges, and Elizabeth his wife, executors of James White, a ſoldier during the revolutionary war, praying compenſation for ſervices rendered by the deceaſed. Referred to the Committee of claims.

Mr. Speaker laid before the houſe a letter from the Secretary of the Treaſury, tranſmitting a ſtatement from John Steele, Eſq. Comptroller, of the compenſation allowed collectors of the cuſtoms for the year 1799.

Ordered to be printed.

Mr. D. Foſter, from the Committee of Claims, made a report on the petition of David Jones and William Rogers, chaplains in the continental army, praying that grants of military bounty lands may be made to them and others in their ſituation. The report ſtates, that chaplains were entitled to and did receive the ſame pay and emoluments as lieutenant colonels in the line of the army, military bounty lands excepted—that it is preſumable Congreſs ſuppoſed the encouragement offered to gentlemen to ſerve in that capacity was ſufficient—in the opinion of the committee it would not be expedient or adviſeable at this late day to go into a conſideration of the ſubject; they therefore recommend the petitioners ſhould have leave to withdraw their petition.

The report was committed to the committee of the whole houſe to whom was referred the report on the petition of Temple Elliot and others.

The houſe went into committee of the whole on the bill for the relief of Campbell Smith, reported their agreement to the bill without amendment, and it was ordered to be read a third time to-morrow.

The houſe reſolved itſelf into a committee of the whole, on the report of the ſelect committee on the petition of Cato Weſt and others—and the reſolutions therein contained being under conſideration, Mr. Claiborne moved additional reſolutions, reſtricting the power of the governor of the S. W. Territory—upon which a motion was made and carried, that the committee riſe, in order to give time to have them printed.

Mr. Griſwold then ſaid, he hoped the committee would not have leave to ſit again, and the reſolutions might be referred to a ſelect committee—upon which a long debate took place—the queſtion "ſhall the committee of the whole have leave to ſit again," was at length taken and negatived—ayes 43—noes 42—Mr. Speaker declared himſelf in the negative, and the report was recommitted.

Mr. H. Lee, moved the following Reſolution, which was ordered to lie on the table:

Reſolved, That a committee be appointed to enquire, and report by bill or otherwiſe, the expediency of making further proviſion by law, to facilitate the communication between different parts of the United States, by means of poſt roads.

Mr. Harper alſo laid the following reſolutions on the table, which were ordered to be printed, viz.

RESOLVED, That for the more convenient, certain and expeditious conveyance of the Mails of the United States, on the main poſt road leading from Portland, in Main, to Auguſta, in Georgia, it is expedient to make proviſion for promoting and aiding the eſtabliſhment of turnpikes on the ſaid road, and for rendering the courſe thereof in re direct, between the places through which it is, or ſhall be, directed by law to paſs; and and that the ſurplus revenue of the poſt office ought to be ſet apart as a fund for thoſe purpoſes.

Reſolved, That the ſaid fund ought to be veſted in a Board, under the direction of the Preſident of the United States, and to be compoſed of the Secretaries of the Executive Department of the United States, and the Attorney General; and that when any company ſhall undertake to make a good turnpike road on any part of the ſaid poſt road, and ſhall apply to the ſaid Board, ſtating their object, plan and means, and ſhall offer good and ſufficient ſecurity for the accompliſhment of the undertaking, within a reaſonable time, to be fixed by the ſaid Board, and for refunding any money to be advanced to them by the ſaid Board in caſe the ſaid undertaking ſhould not be ſo accompliſhed, the ſaid Board ought to be authoriſed and empowered, with the approbation of the Preſident of the United States, to grant an act of incorporation to the ſaid company for the purpoſes aforeſaid, and under certain condition, terms and reſtrictions, to be eſtabliſhed by law; and to ſubſcribe from the ſaid fund, and on behalf of the United States, for any number of the ſhares of the ſaid company not exceeding one third of the whole number; provided, that the payments to be made on account of the ſaid ſubſcription, ſhall be made in ſuch portions, and at ſuch times, as the ſaid Board ſhall ſtipulate, and may be withheld by the ſaid Board, at its diſcretion, whenever the ſaid Company ſhall fail to make its ſtipulated payments.

Reſolved, That whenever two or more companies ſhall apply as aforeſaid, the preference ought to be given to that which ſhall apply for the part of the ſaid poſt-road neareſt to the city of Waſhington in either direction: Provided the plan of ſuch company ſhall appear to the Preſident of the United States to be, in other reſpects, equally worthy of adoption with thoſe of its competitors.

Reſolved, That if there ſhould not be, in any one year, ſufficient applications as aforeſaid to employ the whole of ſaid funds, the ſurplus thereof ought to be applied, in manner aforeſaid, to any other poſt road of the United States, reſpecting which applications in manner aforeſaid, ſhall be made; or at the diſcretion of the Preſident of the United States to be carried to the fund for the next year.

Reſolved, That the tolls and dividends to be derived from the ſhares which ſhall be ſubſcribed for as aforeſaid, ought to be received at the Treaſury of the United States and there accounted for and added annually to the aforeſaid fund, to be applied in manner aforeſaid, to the purpoſes thereof.

Reſolved, That when the ſaid main poſt road ſhall be completed, the fund aforeſaid ought to be applied in manner aforeſaid, to the conſtruction of turnpike roads on any other poſt road of the United States, and of toll bridges on ſuch main or other poſt road.

The houſe went into committee of the whole on the bill to alter and eſtabliſh ſundry poſt roads—Mr. Edmond in the chair—after ſome time ſpent therein, the committee roſe, reported progreſs, and obtained leave to ſit again. Adjourned.

ADDRESS

To Parents, Tutors and Guardians of Youth, by S. SOLOMON, M. D. F. R. H. S.

Every person, young and old, should purchase this book, there being scarcely an individual who is not interested in some part of it—In particular it is recommended to young men and boys; as an early attention to the latter may serve to guide them against a fatal rock on which thousands have split, and be the means of preserving their bodies from disease, and also their souls, their minds, and all their faculties from destruction.

This truly interesting work has been the labour of many years experience and observation on the calamitous consequences of a secret and destructive vice, to obtain a remedy against which, the Doctor has devoted a principal part of his life. No proprietors of Boarding Schools or Academies should be without it—(Price one Dollar.)

STATIONER,
No. 17 South Second Street,

HAMILTON's ELIXIR,
A SOVEREIGN REMEDY

For Colds, obstinate Coughs, Catarrhs, Asthmas, Sore-throats, and approaching Consumptions.

THOUSANDS are too well acquainted with the nature and effects of empirical medicines daily offered for the cure of the above complaints; dear bought experience has taught them that oily and healing medicines joined with strong opiates (or sleepy drugs) repeated doses of which, flatter and deceive the patient for the present, by procuring momentary ease; experience, I say, has taught thousands that the common opiates and balsams, as they are called, finally aggravate every disorder of the breast and lungs in their most distressing symptoms; that they load the stomach and impair the digestion, inflame the whole system, increase the difficulty of breathing, and excite fever.—But the qualities of this valuable discovery are evinced by perfectly opposite effects. A SINGLE TRIAL WILL PROVE that it restores the determination of the fluids to the surface of the body, and brings on the common, healthful perspiration; that it dislodges and evacuates the tough, viscid phlegm, or mucus, strengthens the weakened vessels of the lungs, sheathes the acrimonious humours which irritate the lungs, and finally discharges them. Thus striking at the root of the disorder, the symptoms are of course, effectually and permanently conquered, the reverse of common medicines, which weaken the constitution and give strength to the disorder, for the sake of moderating for the present, some of its painful effects.

TO PARENTS

Who may have Children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH.

This discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorder to which children are liable; the Elixir is so perfectly agreeable and the dose so small, that no difficulty arises in taking it.

For Nervous Disorders, Female Complaints, Gout in the Stomach, Melancholy, Seminal Weakness, loss of Appetite, Bilious Disorders, Inward Weaknesses, Indigestion, Obstinate Gleets, Juvenile Indiscretions and Premature Old Age, and every other symptom of extreme debility, which are the consequences of a Dissipated Life—excess of Pleasure or Grief—Heat or change of Climate—Immoderate use of Tea, Spirituous Liquors, or any Intemperance—Bad Lyings-in—Diseases incident to Young Girls and Women at a certain period of life—

The Cordial Restorative Balsam

Is recommended as a Medicine of specific and unparalleled virtues for the immediate relief and speedy and permanent cure of the above disorders, having stood a trial of many successful years, during which period many thousands of both sexes have been restored from the brink of the grave.

This Balsam is particularly adapted to weak female constitutions, as well as to phlegmatic habits in general; it acts powerfully as a nervine, not only to the weak stomach, but to the whole nervous system! corrects a vitiated appetite and digestion in the first passages, and assists wonderfully in recovering the tone of the urinary and genital organs:—Hence its efficacy in the most obstinate seminal gleets in men, and corresponding weaknesses in women; and hence it will contribute more safely, surely and honourably towards conjugal happiness, than any of those irritating, diabolical compositions, which are so shamefully administered to the unwary.

It is earnestly recommended to those ladies, who from repeated and difficult labours are afflicted with weaknesses and infirmities; in which cases it is highly useful, strengthening at the same time the stomach, the back, the weakened organs, and the whole constitution.

Those, who in advanced life, feel the consequences of youthful excess, or unfortunate youth, who have brought on themselves a numerous train of evils, will by the use of this find themselves restored to health and strength, and all the melancholy symptoms removed, which are the general effects of such causes.

For whether the system has received a shock, and is debilitated from imprudence or inattention in the earliest part of life, or is sinking under the advance of years, a few doses of this medicine will afford immediate assurance of returning health and strength, by giving tone to the muscular system, and organs of digestion, and by renovating the whole constitution

To the young it will afford lasting health, strength and spirits, in place of lassitude and debility: and to the aged and infirm, it will assuredly furnish great relief and comfort, by gently and safely invigorating the system; but if it be in the power of medicine to gild the autumn of declining years, and calmly and serenely protract the close of life beyond its narrow span, this Restorative is capable of effecting that grand desideratum.

Constitutions relaxed, weak or decayed, in men or women, are under the immediate influence of this Restorative.

Old coughs soon relieved and speedily cured.

Poverty of blood and emaciated limbs, will ere long meet the happiest change; the chill watery fluid become rich and balsamic, and the limbs be covered with flesh, firm and healthful.

It will no doubt be acceptable to the reader, to see accounts of some of the remarkable cases and cures which have been performed by this truly invaluable medicine, in the disorders for which it was invented; he has therefore selected a few of such cases as have come within his own immediate knowledge, which are published and may be had (gratis) at any of the places where the medicine is sold.

Prepared (only) by the Inventor and sole Proprietor, Dr. James Church, at his Dispensary, 137, Front street, near the Fly-market, New-York—and sold by Messrs. H. & P. Rice, 16, South Second Street, Philadelphia.
